

Livestock Auction Buyers Guide

Saturday April 11, 2026

The 2026 Clark County Junior Livestock Board would like to welcome you to our annual livestock auction. We are impressed with the youth who dedicate so much time and energy to their animal projects. They produce top quality products and are such great assets in teaching the public about agriculture. None of this would be possible without all of the awesome livestock parents, leaders, and teachers, who dedicate their time, money and knowledge. We are thankful for all of our buyers and sponsors. It's because of such generous people that we have such a great show and sale.

in loving memory of
Case & Emmie Hardy

Case Samuel Hardy loved the Clark County Fair. He took first place in the Steer Pee wee division two years in a row, and his belt buckles were among his most treasured possessions — worn proudly wherever he went. Case had a confidence that drew people in, a spirit many admired. He was a friend to everyone, always laughing, always on the move, usually running around with friends and spending all of his mom's money on plastic guns and corn dogs.

Emmie Faye Hardy was the most devoted livestock sister. She spent countless hours in the barn cheering on her siblings — even on the days she'd rather have been anywhere else. Once, walking into the barn, she looked around, sighed dramatically, and said, "Ugh... people!" Emmie was a homebody at heart, but she still loved the fair — especially seeing all of the animals, getting her face painted, riding all the rides, and dancing with her ballet class.

Case and Emmie would have both been fierce competitors in the show ring. Case with his confidence to win, and Emmie with her sweet (but serious) scowl.

We dedicate this sale to Case and Emmie Hardy. Two beautiful children who are forever loved and always missed.

In Loving Memory of Danielle Terril

Even though she lived with dogs, cats, goats, chickens, cows, hamsters, rabbits, fish, pigs and raccoons, Danielle didn't love animals, but she loved kids. And whatever her kids were involved in she was there for them. So when her kids wanted to raise pigs for the livestock show she was all in. For her kids, the cousins and the neighbor kids. Danielle means, "God will be my Judge," and she lived each day of her life as if she knew with all her heart that God would be her judge. She tried to squeeze in every important thing, and she had a special gift of the ability to sort through the many things in her path and discern what things were most important and what things were not.

She knew what was most important, and always chose to do those most important things. Even if the dishes had to sit in the sink for a while or laundry had to wait till tomorrow. If three pigs needed clipping, that's where she was. When Danielle was first diagnosed with cancer the first doctors told her and Mike to "get their affairs in order, there is not much they could do." They did not accept that answer. They choose to "seek and expect miracles" and the miracles came. Countless miracles. Each time a door was shut and it appeared they were out of options, within a week, a new opportunity or treatment option became available. Her time was extended and with that extra time she was able to do much good. She was able to sit in these bleachers and watch her kids for two more years because of the miracles she expected and received.

She was a friend to everyone who knew her. When she was diagnosed with cancer she made it a priority to go and spend time with anybody else she knew with cancer. She wanted them to know they weren't alone.

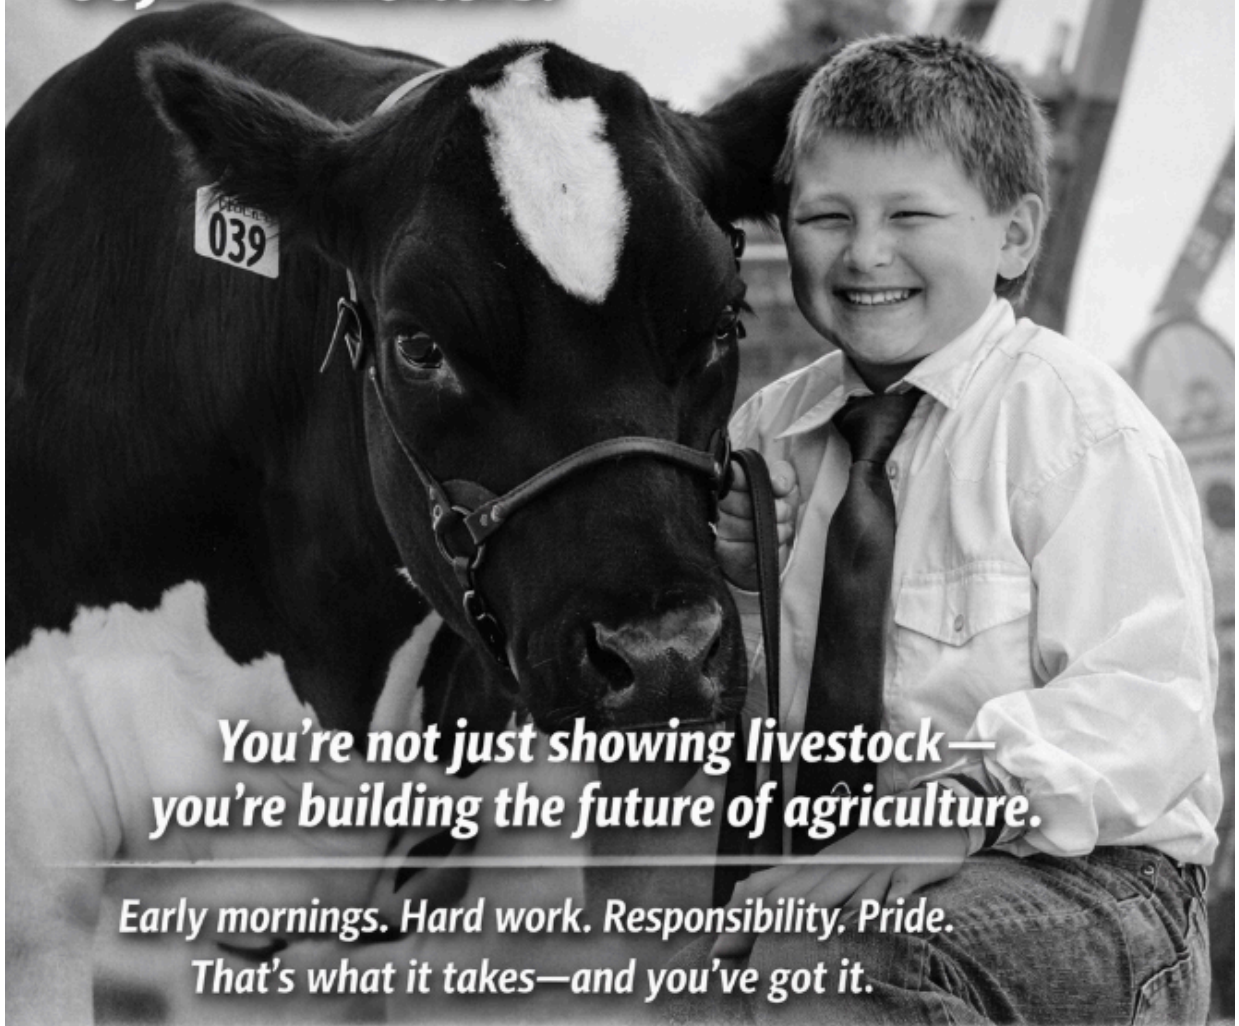

Danielle didn't complain, ever. And she didn't miss an event her family was involved in unless she was in the hospital or traveling to treatments. Whenever she was asked, "How are you?" Her answer was always, "Good!" and then she would change the subject. She didn't like the limelight. She didn't care if you were the grand champion or you didn't make weight, she was just here to love and support. She was here for the kids. So let's do our best to follow Danielle's example during this show and this life.

Be here for the kids.
Be all in.
Let God be your judge.
Don't complain.
Remember what's important.
Be a good friend to everyone.
Don't let anyone feel alone.
Keep your priorities straight.
And always expect miracles.

Future Ag Starts Here.
